THE STAGE COMES FIRST.

The stage is where the work starts.

More than 800 improv shows and extensive experience with corporate audiences.

That is the foundation of Anthony's work. Listening to a room, picking up on an unexpected answer and building a scene while the audience watches it happen.

COMEDY THAT HAPPENS LIVE

Audience interaction.
Characters and scenes.
Musical improvisation.
Working with an ensemble.

A co-founder and core performer of 3a Ka3ba, Anthony has taken that work to audiences across Canada, Europe and the Arab world. He is also a co-founder of LAF Improv Hub in Lebanon.

“I highly recommend seeing them live.”

its own tone and its own reasons to celebrate.

Anthony brings extensive corporate-show experience to these rooms, with live comedy, improvisation and audience interaction at the centre of the performance.

CORPORATE COMEDY & IMPROV

EVENT HOSTING

A BRIEF THAT FITS THE AUDIENCE

The starting point: who is attending, what the event is for, the language, the tone and the boundaries around audience participation.

IMPROV WORKSHOPS

Practical work drawn from the stage.

For teams: listening, collaboration, making offers and responding to unexpected situations through participatory exercises and scenes.

For performers: stage presence, crowd work, joke writing and storytelling. Anthony also develops these skills with emerging comedians at LAF.

BEYOND THE STAGE

His wider career spans television, radio, podcasts and digital media. He has hosted and performed on television, written and created content for numerous TV formats, worked as a screenwriter and developed long-form conversation projects.

TEDxMUBS

When Life Goes Off Script draws on that same improv experience: how we respond when things do not go as planned.

FULL BIO

Anthony Hamawi is a Lebanese comedian and improviser whose career has been built in front of live audiences. Over more than a decade, and across more than 800 improv performances, he has developed a style rooted in listening, character work, musicality and the ability to read a room and turn unpredictable moments into comedy.

As a co-founder and core performer of 3a Ka3ba, Anthony has toured across Canada, Europe and the Arab world. The experience of performing for different audiences, cultures and types of events has made adaptability central to his work. In Lebanon, he co-founded LAF Improv Hub, a dedicated home for live improv and comedy, where he also works with emerging comedians on stage presence, crowd work, joke writing and storytelling. He brings the same experience to corporate entertainment, event hosting and practical workshops built around collaboration, spontaneity and audience interaction.

Beyond the stage, Anthony has built a broad career across television, radio, podcasts and digital media. He has performed and hosted on television, written and created content for numerous TV formats, worked as a screenwriter and developed long-form conversation and podcast projects. Together, this body of work reflects a performer and creator who understands how to build an idea, shape it for the screen and hold an audience across very different formats.

Before entertainment became his profession, Anthony trained and worked as a mechanical engineer. Music has been part of his life since childhood through piano, guitar, singing and musical comedy, and continues to shape the rhythm and responsiveness of his performance. In 2026, he brought the central lessons of his stage career to TEDxMUBS in a talk about meeting the unexpected when life goes off script.
